Sanchez Small Business Forum

Welcome to my small business forum. As an MBA, I am highly aware of the vital role that Orange County's small businesses play in our community. In addition to keeping you informed of my legislative activities in Washington, D.C., it is my sincere hope that this forum provides effective resources for all businesses - from those at the initial stage of development to those who have been a substantial part of our community for many years. I hope you find this site to be an informative and useful tool.
