

Going to College

Pursuing higher education is one of the most important steps an individual can take to better prepare them for a richer life and a rewarding career. A college education can open a world of opportunities and can give young people the needed skills and abilities to succeed in life. Below are links to important information about college entrance exams and financial aid, as well as various links to colleges and universities in the area.

Preparing For College: Testing

For high school students thinking about attending college in the next couple years, SAT and ACT tests are a critical piece of your admission process. Below are some helpful sites to assist you in finding out more about entrance exams and prep courses for those exams. Below that you will find links to colleges and universities in the area.

Collegeboard.com brings together all the information and tools that students and parents need to plan for the transition from high school to college. It is the only place where students can register for the SAT online and practice online with actual SAT test questions. Students and parents also use collegeboard.com to identify and search for suitable colleges, apply to college online, explore career options, learn about college costs, and navigate the confusing world of financial aid.

College PowerPrep has helped thousands of students make dramatic improvements in their scores and gain entrance into the college of their choice. Over the last 15 years, they have developed a variety of training tools to help students prepare, including workbooks, software, and videos, based on the organization's belief that effective SAT and ACT preparation rests on solid principles.

Kaplan, Inc. is one of the nation's premier providers of educational and career services for individuals, schools and businesses. Kaplan has helped transform the for-profit education industry, setting professional standards in an era of educational innovation, global expansion and technological advancement.

The Princeton Review helps students achieve "Better scores. Better schools." The Princeton Review helps millions of students each year to navigate standardized tests and the college and graduate school admissions process through its courses, books, software and Web sites.

Links To Orange County Universities And Colleges:

University Of California, Irvine

California State University Fullerton

Chapman University

Coast Community College

Cypress Community College

Fullerton Junior College

Golden West College

Orange Coast College

Santa Ana College